

xSport Coaching and London Helvecia Futsal Club announce partnership to launch London Helvecia Youth Academy

xSport and London Helvecia partner to launch London Helvecia Youth Academy starting 2018

FA National champions London Helvecia Futsal Club, is to launch their own futsal youth teams, in partnership with leading coaching experts xSport Coaching.

Founded in 2003, xSport Coaching Ltd has been coaching juniors and adults throughout the South of England, India, Brazil, Kazakhstan, Tunisia and Thailand for 14 years. They have worked with some of Europe's leading football clubs and have helped to produce a number of professional players while also helping players gain a pathway for academic excellence.

The Academy will commence in January 2018 and is focused on developing the talents of local players of all abilities, from Under- 6's to Under- 16's, through an established futsal coaching curriculum. The very best players from the academy will then gain the opportunity to work with the first team.

Mark Taylor, xSport Coaching managing director, said: "xSport Coaching is proud to be partnering with England's greatest futsal club, London Helvecia who have been the flag bearers for English Futsal over the last 8 years. We are grateful for the opportunity to develop the youth section for the club, bringing our successful methodology to help create a breeding ground for future futsal players within the club. "Our main aim is to provide an opportunity for players to gain a superior knowledge of this great sport and to help support the club in any way we can. Initially, this will take the form of junior academies and, once established, we will deliver centres of excellence across the region. "This is a very exciting opportunity for all parties and we are looking forward to working closely with London Helvecia Futsal Club to deliver it."

Leandro Afonso, London Helvecia Futsal Club Head Coach, said: "London Helvecia Futsal Club is very proud to have the xSport Coaching as its new partner in the development of the London Helvecia Youth Academy. We believe that xSport Coaching will be bringing all your experience in the development of our academies, thereby causing our club to be really reference in the UK. Our biggest goal, together with the xSport Coaching, is to introduce the same methodology that has been working on the main team of the London Helvecia, building a homogeneous vision in search of a continuous result of excellence, from our academies to the first team, demonstrating the Helvecia DNA."
